The use of all the ensuing Tables

To know the distance betweene any two Cities or Townes in any of theis Tables seeke the places desired in the Vpper & side Catalogues of Townes and direct yo<sup>r</sup> eye from either place betweene the lines both from aboue and from the side and where the lines meete in square you shall finde the nomber of miles. For Example, if you would know how farre Lincolne is from Exiter, looke in the cardffshire Townes and finde Lincolne in the side and carrie yo<sup>r</sup> eye directly from thence betweene the lines untill it come vnder Exiter and where they meete in square you shall finde 178. w<sup>ch</sup> is the distance of miles. If yow finde any towne in the side w<sup>ch</sup> will not extend to make a square wth the desired towne aboue, then looke for the Towne w<sup>ch</sup> yow finde in the side, in the vpper pt & the vpp part in the side.

For Example

If you desyre to know the distance betweene Gloucester and Oxford, if you looke Gloucester in the side you cannot bringe Oxford in a square wth Gloucester but if you looke Gloucester aboue and Oxford in the side you shall finde the square and the distance 35 miles and see of the other ensuing Tables

To know whether you are to trauell East, West, North or South, from the place where you are to the place whither you intend to goe, & through what Shires you must passe

Look<sup>e</sup> in the small mapp of England placed before the next table of Shire townes and draw a streight line from the next

Shire towne lying in yo<sup>r</sup> way to that Shire towne w<sup>ch</sup> is next the place whither you desyre to goe and you shall immediately see whether your Journie be East, West, North, or South, and what Shires the line brings you through, these Shires you must passe.

As for Example

If you would travell from London to Yorke, you will perceiue by the mapp that it lyeth North from London then draw a line or carrie yo<sup>r</sup> eye streight from London to Yorke and you shall finde the way lyeth through Middlesex, Hartfordshire, Huntingdonshire, Northamptonshire, Lincolne Shire, Nottinghamshire, and Yorke Shire, and soe for any other place.

Againe to know what market townes lie in your way which way soeuer you travell.

When you haue seene in the generall mapp what Shires you are to passe thorough obserue whether you must passe through the middle or the skirts of ech Shire then turne to the tables of those Shires and at the foote of ech of them you shall haue a mapp wherein the townes are signified as they lye in every Shire by the first letter of every towne, and if you must passe through the middle of the Shire then the letters about the middle of the mapp declare the Townes by w<sup>ch</sup> you must goe, but if thorough the skirts of the Shire then the letters in the skirts of the mapp are yo<sup>r</sup> direction.

The Market Townes in every table are distinguished from the rest by greate letters, and the letter for y<sup>e</sup> Shire townes hath a crosse on the topp to distniguish it from the other

 Zoology
 Catalogue
 the
 Fishes
 British Museum
 Natural History
 London
 1859

The following is a list of the fishes of the British Museum Natural History, London, 1859.
 The list is arranged in alphabetical order of the names of the fishes, and includes the names of the authors of the descriptions, and the names of the collectors of the specimens.
 The list is divided into two parts, the first part containing the names of the fishes, and the second part
 containing the names of the authors and collectors.
 The list is printed in two columns, and is bound in a single volume.
 The list is a valuable work, and is a valuable addition to the collection of the British Museum Natural History.

FLANDERS

BRITANNICVS

Shire towne lying in yo<sup>r</sup> way to that Shire towne w<sup>ch</sup> is next the place whither you desyre to goe and you shall immediately see whether your Journie be East, West, North, or South, and what Shires the line brings you through, those Shires you must passe.

As for Example.

If you would trauell from London to Yorke, you will perceiue by the mapp that it lyeth North from London then draw a line or carrie yo<sup>r</sup> eye streight from London to Yorke and you shall finde the way lyeth through Middlesex, Hartfordshire, Hunting-tonshire, Northamptonshire, Lincolneshire, Nottinghamshire, and Yorkeshire, and soe for any other place.

Againe to know what market townes lie in your way which way s<sup>o</sup>uer you trauell.

When you haue seene in the generall mapp what Shires you are to passe thorough obserue whether you must passe through the middle or the skirts of ech Shire then turne to the tables of those Shires and at the foote of ech of them you shall haue a mapp wherein the townes are signified as they lye in every Shire by the first letter of every towne, and if you must passe through the middle of the Shire then the letters about the middle of the mapp declare the Townes by w<sup>ch</sup> you must goe, but if thorough the skirts of the Shire then the letters in the skirts of the mapp are yo<sup>r</sup> direction.

The Market Townes in every table are distinguished from the rest by greate letters, and the letter for y<sup>e</sup> Shire townes hath a crosse on the topp to distinguish it from the other.

insueing Tables*

To know the distance betweene any two Cities or Townes in any of these Tables, seeke the places desired in the vpper & side Catalogues of Townes, and direct yo<sup>r</sup> eye from either place betweene the lines both from above and from the side, and where the lines meete in square you shall finde the number of miles. For Example, if you would know how farre Lincolne is from Exeter, looke in the cardffshire Townes and finde Lincolne in the side and carrie yo<sup>r</sup> eye directly from thence betweene the lines vntill it come vnder Exeter, and where they meete in square you shall finde 178. w<sup>ch</sup> is the distance of miles. If you finde any towne in the side w<sup>ch</sup> will not extend to make a square wth the desired towne above, then looke for the Towne w<sup>ch</sup> you finde in the side, in the vpper pt & the vpp part in the side.

For Example

If you desyre to know the distance betweene Gloucester and Oxford, if you looke Gloucester in the side, you cannot bringe Oxford in a square wth Gloucester but if you looke Gloucester above and Oxford in the side you shall finde the square and the distance 35 miles and see of the other ensueing Tables

To know whether you are to trauell East, West, North or South, from the place where you are to the place whither you intend to goe, & through what Shires you must passe.

Look in the small mapp of England placed before the great table of Shire townes and draw a streight line from the next

A Card, or platt, of all the shire townes in England

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a textured appearance with visible creases, discoloration, and faint, illegible markings. On the right edge, there is a vertical strip of text, possibly a binding or spine label, which is partially visible and reads "THE END OF THE WORLD". The overall tone is light beige, and the page appears to be part of an old volume.
